"Most congenial of innkeepers,
Your customer has entered.
Where would you like me to sit?
Those who must sit by the entrance
Cannot be at ease."

It's got a nice ring to it, doesn't it?
A song from the pirates of northern Europe.

—Eiichiro Oda, 1997

Eiichiro Oda began his manga career at the age of 17, when his one-shot cowboy manga Wanted! won second place in the coveted Tezuka manga awards. Oda went on to work as an assistant to some of the biggest manga artists in the industry, including Nobuhiro Watsuki, before winning the Hop Step Award for new artists. His pirate adventure One Piece, which debuted in Weekly Shonen Jump magazine in 1997, quickly became one of the most popular manga in Japan.

STORY AND ART BY

EIICHIRO ODA

THE STORY OF ONE PIECE Volume 2

It is the Golden Age of Piracy. Countless pirates sail the seas, searching for legendary pirate Gold Roger's mysterious treasure, the "One Piece." Among them is Monkey D. Luffy, who grew up listening to the wild tales of buccaneer "Red-Haired" Shanks and dreaming of becoming a pirate himself. Having eaten the fruit of the Gum-Gum Tree, Luffy has the bizarre power to stretch like rubber—at the cost of being unable to swim!

He ate the fruit of the Gum-Gum Tree, gaining stretchy powers. He wants to become King of the Pirates—and find his hero, "Red-Haired" Shanks.

A pirate captain. He saved young Luffy's life, losing his own arm in the battle, and taught Luffy a love of the sea.

Mohji Buggy Cabaji

Although he's won fame as a pirate hunter, his true dream is to become the world's greatest swordsman.

Now Luffy's quest to become the King of the Pirates has begun. He's found an unlikely friend and crewmate in the fearsome pirate hunter Zolo. But Luffy and Zolo are separated and run afoul of the ruthless pirate Captain Buggy and his gang. Meanwhile, Luffy meets Nami the thief, who specializes in robbing pirates. With an untrustworthy thief at his side and enraged pirates on his tail, Luffy's career on the high seas is already in big trouble. And he's about to learn the terrible secret of Captain Buggy's success...

A freelance thief who targets pirates for her robberies.

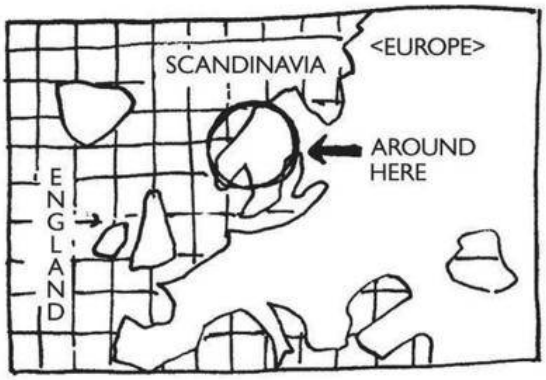
VIKINGS, PART 1

- All pirates are sea-roving plunderers, but throughout history there have been many different kinds of pirates in different times and places.

- I want to talk about one of my favorite kinds of pirates: the Vikings.

- Over a thousand years ago, Viking raiders swept down from Scandinavia and ran amok through Europe.



They came from the present-day countries of Norway, Sweden and Denmark. As to why they were called Vikings, well, that's easy: that's what they called themselves. Why did they call themselves Vikings? To know that, we'd have to go back a thousand years and ask them.

VIKINGS, PART 2

- These guys were really scary. How scary were they? Well, they'd sweep out of an inlet, attack ships or villages, and slaughter everyone, even the local priests. They stole food and anything of value, and when they were done they set fire to everything they didn't want. They were unbelievable villians.

- But from their perspective, they were just trying to make a living. They brought the spoils of their piracy home to better their villages. This was “men’s work.” These people considered a lifetime of pillage and battle to be a good career.

- Some say the word Viking comes from "vik," meaning "creek" or “inlet”—meaning the people who attack from the inlets.

VIKINGS, PART 3

- When I was a kid, I used to enjoy watching an animated tv seres called Chiisa na Viking Bikke ("Little Viking Vicke"). The show was about the adventures of a Viking boy named Vicke, who wasn't very strong but was very clever, and a group of Vikings who were very strong but not so smart. Their adventures were very fun and entertaining.

- It aired over 15 years ago, so a lot of people of my generation (I'm 23) remember it from childhood. If it ever gets rebroadcast, you should definitely check it out! That's probably how I started liking pirates.

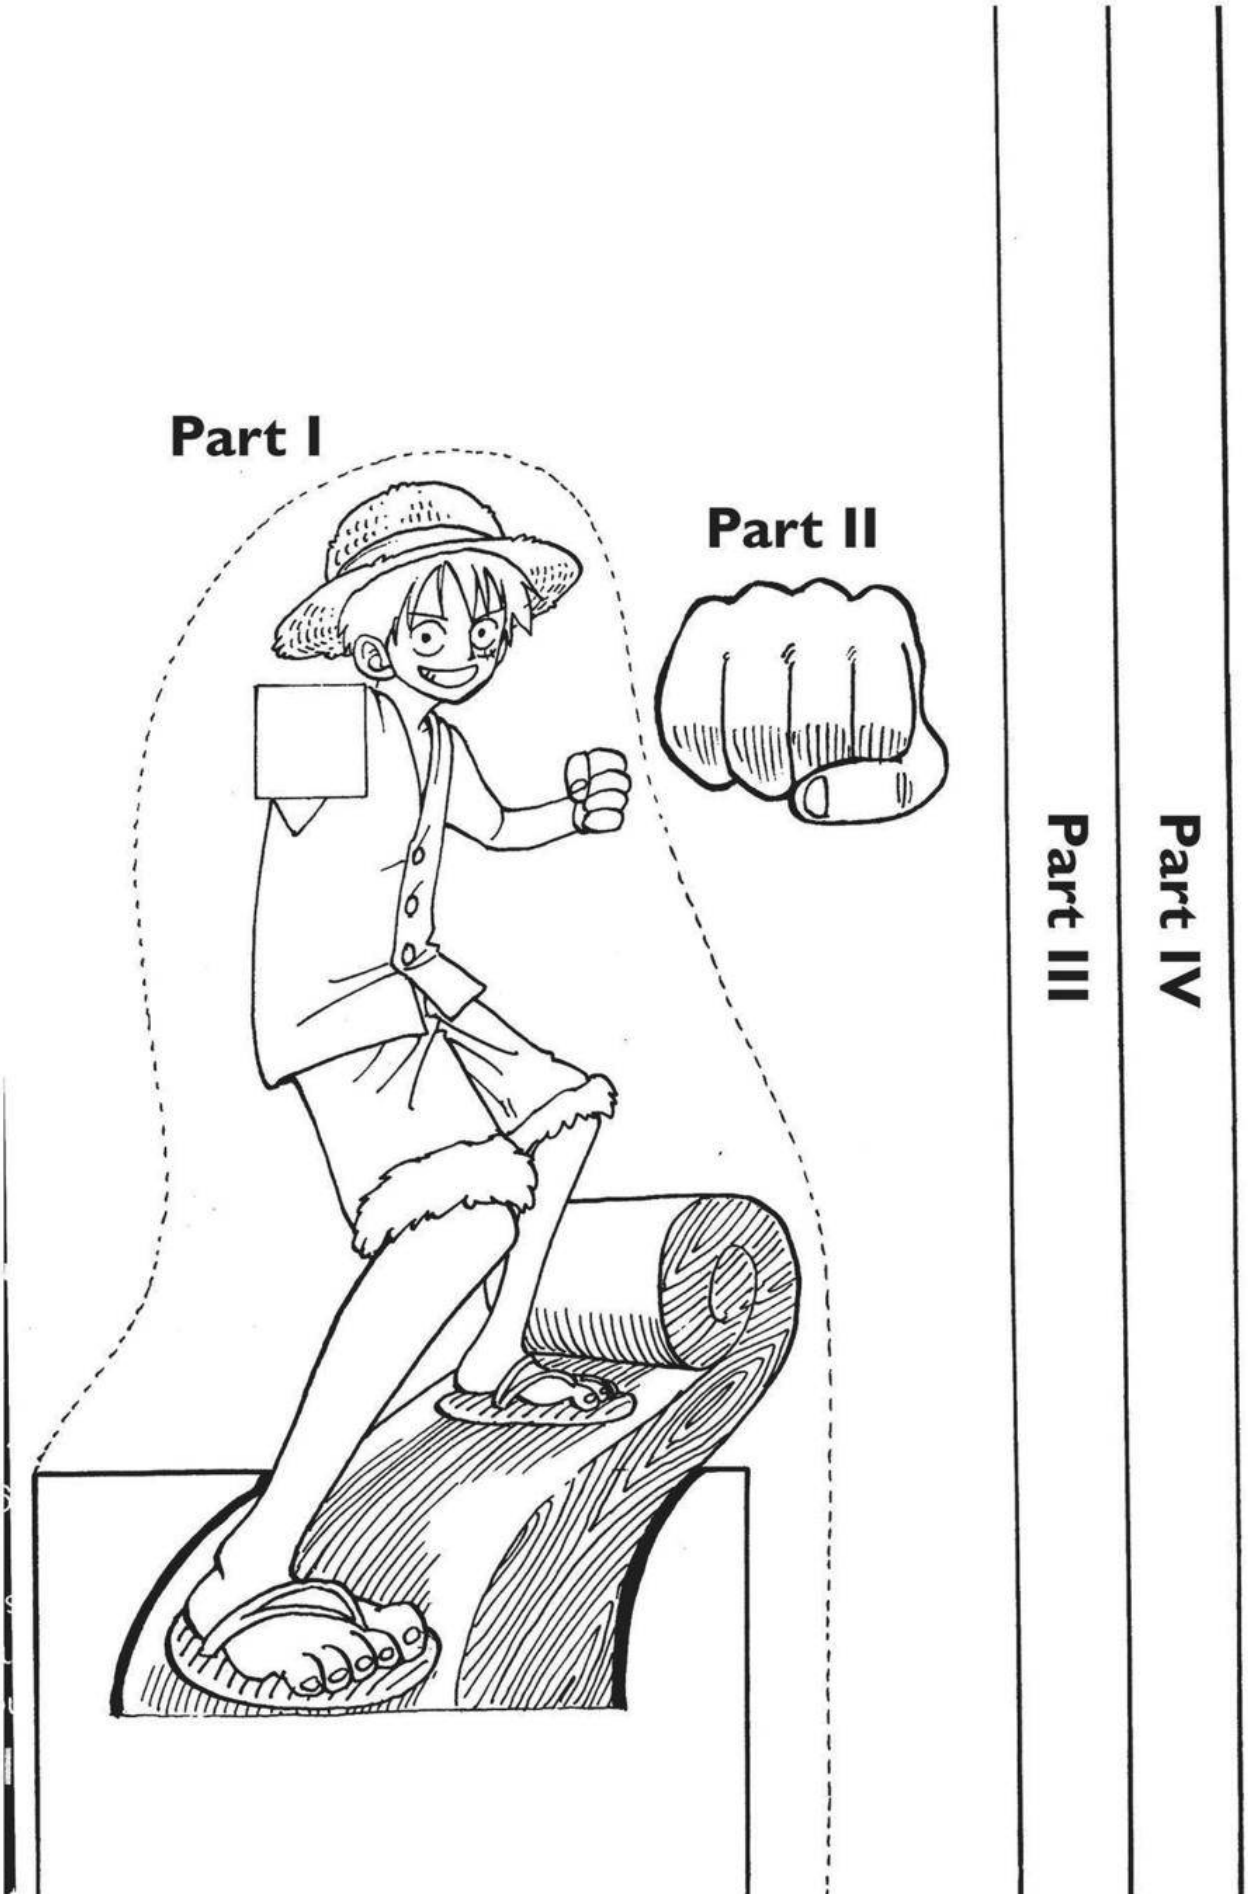
Let's make a Sproingy Luffy!

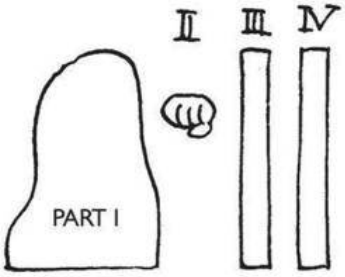


How to make a Sproingy Luffy:

You need:
Scissors - Glue or paste - Crayons, markers, or colored pencils - Stiff paper - The strong will to make Sproingy Luffy

Instructions:

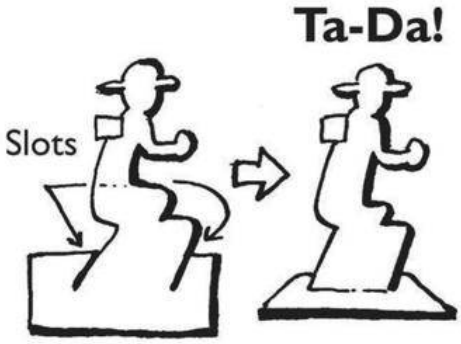
1. Color! To start out, color the various parts of Luffy. (Have fun!) Use flesh color for Parts II, III and IV. People who don't like messing up their books can make a photocopy to color and cut out instead.



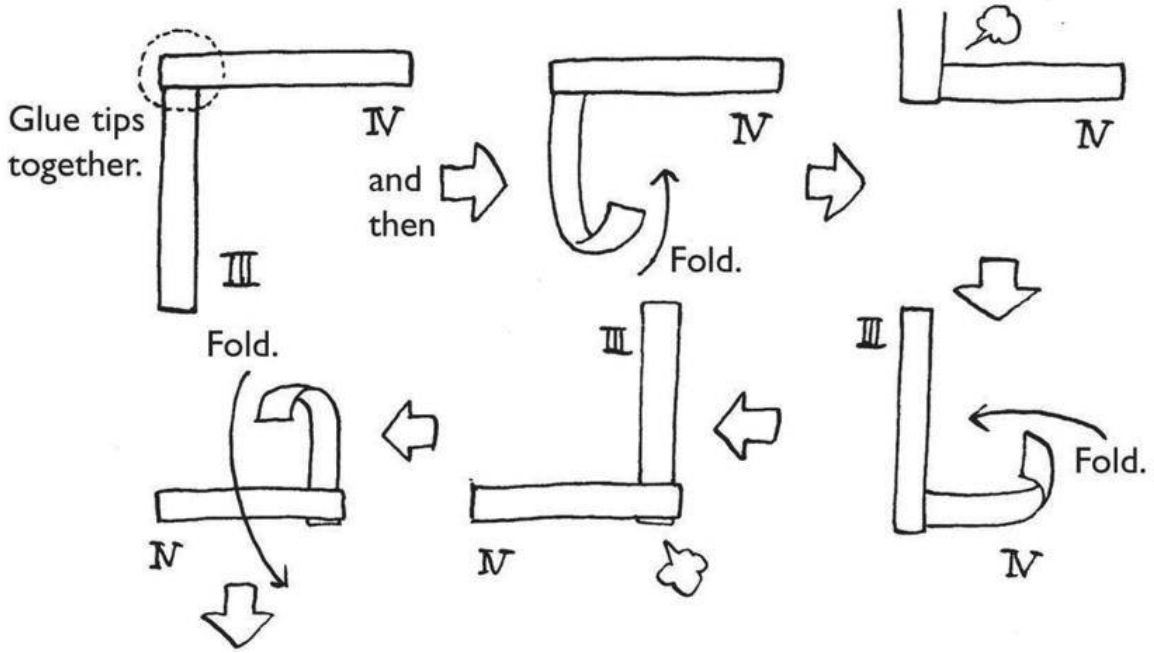
2. Cut it out! Cut out Part I along the dotted line, and cut out the pieces for Parts II, III and IV, following the lines.
3. Paste Part I onto a piece of stiff paper.

Let it Dry!

4. Wait for the glue to dry. Act cool. You can dance while you wait, too.
5. Cut out Part I (you'll be cutting the stiff paper, too), following Luffy's outline this time. Do it all powerful-like! Carefully cut the slots, following the thick lines around his legs, and make Luffy stand up.



6. Glue Part III and Part IV at right angles to each other, just at the tips!



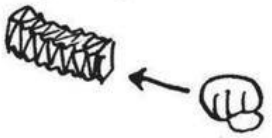
And so on and so forth, folding them over and over each other like you're weaving.

← You should get something sproingy like this thing.

↙ Glue the other ends together, and then you're done with this part!

7. Assemble (Rise, Luffy, Rise!)

a. Glue the square part of the sproingy bit onto the square on Luffy's right shoulder.



b. Then glue Part II to the other end of the sproingy bit.

8. COMPLETION!
